

1920 onwards

The UK becomes increasingly urbanised and farming intensifies. This leads to declines in nature that continue today at an alarming rate.

