

1949

The National Parks & Access to the Countryside Act designates both National Parks and Areas of Outstanding Natural Beauty in England and Wales, and opens up rights of way to public exploring nature.